'Choose the career in which you are good and enjoy doing it,'
Dr. Subir Vithal Gokarn, an Economist, Executive Director of India's Mission at the International Monetary Fund

Children's survival and development are shaped by their experiences, actions and interactions. The knowledge of economic implications, on which our current daily life and all history and literature quite obviously rest, is necessary to be known by the young minds. A seminar cum interaction with Dr. Subir Vithal Gokarn, an economist and the Executive Director of India's Mission at the International Monetary Fund was organized. Dr. Subir empowered the young minds with elaborated explanation on different sectors where economics training is useful. He also threw the light on how Economics plays a major role in helping the government in making new policies and decision making which further makes the country developed. He advised the children to choose the field as a career in which they are good and enjoy doing it. Further Dr. Subir answered the queries of some enthusiastic students. On the whole, the children gained knowledge on how the Economics offer authoritative insight and opinion on International News, Politics, Business, Finance, Science, Technology and connections between them.

'Manifest the inherent values for the attainment of World peace,'
Sri Sri Sri Viswayogi Viswamjee Maharaj

Prakashites were extremely fortunate for having witnessed gracious presence and interaction with the spiritual humanist. The traditional name and spiritual honour may lead one to mistake him to be a spiritual monk. But, Sri Sri Sri Viswayogi speaks about the world to be one whole as a family and in great peace. When, he spoke about the family, he stressed on the family values. He appreciated the role of mother in raising a child and moulding it as she wants. He equally appreciated the teaching fraternity for shaping and giving a new life. He made the students chant 'Guru Brahma...' several times to make them realize the true value of a guru. He even, laid emphasis on sacrifice which builds the family relations and values. He urged all to embrace shanti, wisdom and ethics. Finally, he answered the queries of the young minds.

The Japanese Craft Kirigami and Origami Highlighted in National Science Day Celebrations

National Science Day is celebrated as one of the main science festivals every year during which students demonstrate various science projects. The celebration is based on themes and concepts, watching the life around. This year the theme was Kirigami and Origami, the craft which is derived from Japan worldwide. The Idea may look simple, yet complicated when thought scientifically. The exhibition was conducted for all grades and was competitive in nature. The young minds came with the models of Eiffel Tower, Leaning Tower of Pisa, Taj Mahal and many more. It is celebrated every year in Sri Prakash to spread message about the significance of scientific applications in the daily life, to showcase all the activities, efforts and achievements of the nimble hands to encourage them and to give an opportunity to the scientific minded students.

The winning playlet 'Ekkadi vallu akkade' reenacted in the presence of Bhagwan Sri Sri Sri Viswayogi Viswamjee Maharaj graced the celebrations of the success of Golden Nandi Award in A.P. State Balala Nandi Natakotsavam-2016 for the 3rd consecutive year. The award-winning playlet "Ekkadi Vallu Akkade" is based on the theme which draws everyone's attention to the social conditions and modern living style. The habitats of animals, forests are being destroyed for man's selfish needs which urge the animals to leave woods and enter cities. On the other hand, children are strained to live the unlive lives of their parents. In such living conditions, they too think of a movement to forests. The underlying message is revealed at the end by provoking the audience to think that each one is safe and secure at their natural habitat. At this, the arena was echoed with the overwhelming response of the audience. Bhagwan Sri Sri Sri Viswayogi Viswamjee Maharaj, spiritual humanist; Dr.G.Surya Prakash, Medical Director and Senior Consultant Cardiologist, Care Hospitals, Secunderabad; Mr. T.YOGANAND, Commissioner of Police, Visakhapatnam City, in the rank of Inspector General of Police; Padma Shri awardee Sri R. Sri. K.B.Subramaniam, RIE, Bhopal

In a Ten-day workshop Sri. Subramaniam taught students at different levels and made them assess their position themselves to know their command over the subject. He taught students Geometry, Polygamy, Number system and algebra. In his way of imparting the methods, he just remained as a facilitator. Thus, he made the teacher talking time less. He, in details, explained the students the common errors they commit and few tricky ways with which the student may jump to easy conclusion. Later, the mathematician interacted with teachers and explained them how to enhance skills and teaching levels without the help of resource books. He insisted more on classroom learning than on any other latest applications which are in use in modern days. He even stressed on child-centered methods to enhance self-learning.

Satya Nadella - Man of Change, Encouraging Creativity and Reactivity

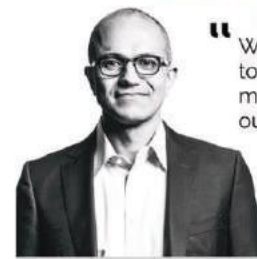

Satya Nadella is an Indian engineer who has joined the league of technological wizards like Steve Jobs and Bill Gates by the virtue of his great work and dedication. Nadella's educational background undoubtedly played a great role in shaping his technical and leadership abilities. After pursuing a degree in 'Electrical Engineering' from the reputed 'Manipal Institute of Technology' located in India, this tech wizard relocated to the United States. Here, he studied at esteemed institutions like the 'University of Wisconsin' and the 'Booth School of Business'.

Nadella's life changed completely after he joined the IT giant 'Microsoft'. Slowly but steadily he grabbed bigger opportunities at the enterprise and went on to manage several divisions of the company. One of Satya's path-breaking accomplishments within the firm was to pave the way for the cloud computing technology, which later went on to become a trendsetter. Nadella even became an important stakeholder in the firm and owned stocks worth millions of dollars and earned a handsome salary, much higher than many engineers of his kind. He became a household name in 2014 after being crowned the 'CEO' of 'Microsoft'. The tech wizard soon became popular amongst sections of the media across the world and is often invited as a guest speaker to many events across the United States.

"We are the company that enables people to do more, to play, have more fun, create more. So, in some sense we refer to ourselves as the do more company."

Satya Nadella
CEO Microsoft

BORN

19 August 1967 (Age 49)
Hyderabad, Andhra Pradesh, India

EDUCATION

Hyderabad Public School
Manipal Institute of Technology
Booth School of Business
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Childhood & Early Life : Satya is the son of Bukkapuram Nadella Yugandher, who was born on the 19th of August, 1967. His father was a government officer, working for the 'Indian Administrative Service'.

Satya Nadella during his school days in Hyderabad

Satya Nadella Wife Ms. Anupama Priyadarshini

He pursued his primary education at the 'Hyderabad Public School', located in the Begumpet region of the city. He then moved to the prestigious 'Manipal Institute of Technology', located in the Manipal town of Karnataka.

In 1988, Nadella graduated from this renowned institution and was thinking of moving out of the country to pursue his higher studies. He then got admitted to the reputed 'University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee' located in the United States to pursue his 'Masters of Science' (M.S) degree. He then graduated from the renowned university in 1990.

His desire to excel in the corporate world also motivated Nadella to move to one of the best business schools in the world, the 'Booth School of Business' affiliated to the 'University of Chicago'. He received a 'Masters of Business Administration' (MBA) degree from this prestigious institution.

Career : After completing his education, Nadella joined the well-known firm 'Sun Microsystems'. He worked in this company for a brief period and then moved to the Silicon-valley giant 'Microsoft', in 1992.

Nadella started climbing the corporate ladder steadily while working at 'Microsoft'. He then went on to make important decisions in the interest of the firm. He was one of the few employees who suggested the concept of cloud computing to the firm. Eventually the company dedicated lot of its time and resources to the development of this technology. The result was the germination of one of the world's largest cloud based entities, named 'Microsoft Azure'.

Satya was later given the responsibility to control the 'Research & Development' department, which belonged to the 'Online Service Division' and was even appointed as the senior vice-president of the same. He joined this department in 2007 and continued being a part of it for the next four years. Nadella then moved to the

Systems and Tools division of Microsoft and was even appointed its president. The annual turnover of Microsoft contributed by this segment of business alone is said to be around $20

Billion today. He also guided 'Microsoft' to move many of their other projects such as the 'Microsoft SQL Server' and a few other tools to in the firm for a period of twenty two years, Nadella was promoted to the designation of the CEO of 'Microsoft' in 2014.

Major Works : One of Nadella's greatest accomplishments was pioneering the 'Cloud computing' division of 'Microsoft'. The annual turnover contributed by this division of the business was $16.6 Billion in 2011, when he was just appointed its head. In a matter of three years, the turnover saw a significant increase to around $20.6 Billion.

Satya Nadella with Bill Gates and Steve Balmer

Personal Life & Legacy : Satya got married to Anupama in 1992, who was the daughter of his father's friend. The couple later became parents to three children, which included two daughters and a son. The family currently resides in the Bellevue county region, Washington D.C. He was widely criticized online, when his remark on hike of salaries for female employees came across as biased against women, at the 'Grace Hopper Celebration of Women in Computing' event. When he is not caught with his business commitments, Nadella likes to unwind by reading poetry. He is also really fond of cricket and attributes the sport as one of the reasons behind his leadership abilities.

Achievements : It was only natural that he was the chosen to be the next CEO. On Feb 4th, 2014, Satya Nadella became the third CEO of Microsoft. Satya Nadella, grown up in Hyderabad is an avid cricket lover like the rest of the million Indians. He had grown up playing cricket for his school team and says that all the leadership and team management skills that he now possesses are a result of being part of the school cricket team. Satya Nadella advises younger entrepreneurs to keep learning, and opines that people stop growing when they stop learning.
